Section 1 Introduction
Dear Parents and Legal Guardians

We write to you to offer our support, encouragement and hope. As we embark on the “new normal” of remote learning, we are here for you and your family. We want to express our profound thanks to parents, students, staff and administration for pulling together in these unprecedented times. Our department is here to assist you and to answer questions you may have during this time.

The home school connection is at its strongest point. Let’s take advantage of the time to build our strongest relationship ever. This is a learning period for all of us, but you as a parent already know your student the best. You are your child’s first and far most important teacher. Thank you for this partnership.

The Bilingual and Multicultural Department makes education accessible to students through the Dual Language Program, Transitional Bilingual Education Program and Transitional Program of Instruction, providing an engaging and nurturing environment, which promotes success in English language acquisition and high expectations for students’ academic achievement. Please use this handbook as an additional reference guide during remote learning.

Our district website will be the first point of information. We encourage all families to become familiar with the WPS60 Remote Learning site and school webpages https://www.wps60.org/. Our team is here to support you and your child during this time.

The state has provided these guidelines, the district is providing additional information and support, but your child’s school and their teacher will be able to help you figure out how to make this work for your child in your home with your unique circumstances and challenges. Don’t be afraid to reach out to your child’s school for ideas on making home learning work at your house. We will provide some helpful tips under the third section of this handbook.

1.4 Attendance / Grading

This is a learning period for all primary and secondary schools across our nation. Attendance and grades will look different from district to district and from classroom to classroom. We encourage you to help your student develop the habit of logging in daily for the district’s daily recommended amount of time. Different grade levels and all teachers have different ways of delivering instruction. Your student may need to log into Google Classroom to finish assignments. Many teachers may be using Achieve 3000, Newsela, Classdojo, Google Hangouts, ALEKS, GoNoodle, Edmentu, Khan Academy or YouTube.

Logging in daily will assure your student will be counted for attendance and he or she is able to produce work that can be graded. If you or a student need assistance accessing any of the above applications or website, please contact anyone on our team. Remote learning will be the new norm now until next school year. The school year is not over. Our district’s promotion/retention process has been modified, for more information please see: WPS 60 promotion policy update

2.5 Making your needs known, nonacademic needs addressed

We are aware that many families will experience this pandemic differently. Rest assured we are here to support you. As a department we will like to remind everyone of the words expressed by our superintendent Theresa Plascencia:

“There are many things you can do to support your child:

- Take time to talk with your child or teen about the COVID-19 outbreak. Answer questions and share facts about COVID-19 in a way that your child or teen can understand.
- Reassure your child or teen that they are safe, and comfort them when it’s needed.
- Share with them how you deal with your own stress so that they can learn how to cope with you.
- Limit your family’s exposure to news coverage of the event, including social media. Children may misinterpret what they hear and can be frightened about something they do not understand.
- Try to keep up with regular routines. With schools closed, create a schedule for learning activities and relaxing or fun activities.
- Be a positive role model. Take breaks, get plenty of sleep, exercise, and eat well. Connect with your friends and family members.

These are just a few of the various strategies you can use. For more information on different child stress management techniques visit: helping children cope.”-1

Please reach out to any of our Parent Engagement and Family Support Team if you are in need of information or referrals. We are able to help you connect with school or community resources to help you deal with anything that might be getting in the way of your students’ learning.

Our lives feel very different right now. We are all dealing with huge amounts of change and extra stress. One thing we can do is help keep our kids safe during this time to keep a daily routine of health and safe habits.

3.3 Family Preparedness Plan Tips

We recommend that all families be ready and prepared with emergency contact phone numbers, important documents and a list of family and or friends that would need to be contacted in an emergency. Templates of family preparedness plans can be found at Make a plan.

Sit down with your family and decide what you will do in an emergency, where you will go, and how you will get in contact with each other. Keep a copy of this plan in your emergency supply kit or another safe place where you can access it in the event of a disaster.
